September 4, 2013 (Hong Kong) - Machine-milled out of wooden or carbonized bamboo blocks, the Nature features painstaking hand-polishing for the perfect grip. Curved around the edges, the wooden back is paired to the Signature frame via six rubber-coated stainless steel clips to form an ultra-sturdy assembly.

As with the rest of the Signature series, the aluminum main frame of the Signature Nature is machined down to the 0.05th millimeter to ensure a perfect fit. It employs meticulous nylon brushing, yielding a smooth texture without any unpleasant graininess or fingerprints.

Available in cherry wood, black walnut, carbonized bamboo, and black carbonized bamboo, the Nature represents a spectacular fusion of aluminum and wood.

The Truffol Signature Nature series is priced at USD $75, available immediately.
